[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

DOMESTIC NEWS.

United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—Allison, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the joint resolution appropriating $35,000 additional for the purchase of land for a site for the Congressional Library.

Plumb objected to its present consideration, and it was placed on the calendar.

Allison also reported back the House joint resolution to continue the appropriations temporarily.

Plumb and Edmunds objected to its present consideration.

Allison asked that the objection be withdrawn, and stated that if the resolutions were not passed the employes whose compensation is provided for in the civil bill could not be paid for the time intervening between the last day of July and the day when that bill would receive the President's signature.

Plumb declined to withdraw objection. The resolution was placed on the calendar.

Allison, from the same committee, reported back the House adjournment resolution, with an amendment changing the time from the 28th of July to 4 P. M. the 4th of August.

Blair objected to the further consideration of the adjournment resolution, and it was placed on the calendar.

Blair then called up the report of the Commitee on Pensions in the case of the vetoed bill giving a pension to Mary J. Nottage.

Whitthorne, a member of the Pension Committee, addressed the Senate in support of the veto.

Allison, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the bill appropriating $50,000 for the compensation and expenses of the Mississippi River Commission, and $20,000 for the Missouri River Commission.

The Committee on Education and Labor was directed to continue and complete the investigation of the relations between capital and labor.

Cullum moved to proceed to the consideration of the joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of War to accept certain lands near Chicago, Ill. Rejected.

The Senate then took up the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—Willis presented the conference report on the river and harbor appropriation bill, and it was read at length and was agreed to—ayes 121, noes 98.

Burns submitted the conference report upon the deficiency appropriation bill, and it was agreed to.

Morrison submitted the conference report on the sundry civil bill. The report was agreed to—ayes 126, noes 26, and the House adjourned.

Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The Cabinet was in session about three hours to-day, arranging the affairs of the Departments in anticipation of the speedy adjournment of Congress. The Cutting and Rorsures cases were also considered.

The sundry civil bill, which has been regarded as the main obstacle in the way of a speedy adjournment of Congress, was agreed upon by the conferees to-day. The coast survey item inserted by the Senate remains substantially as it passed the Senate, while the provision for the protection and improvement of the Yellowstone Park is the same as that made in the original House bill.

The conferees on the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill, and the bill to repeal the pre-emption and timber culture laws, met this noon, and after a short conference, adjourned, having failed to agree with regard to any point at issue in either bill. It is now expected that another conference will be held.

Among the items stricken from the deficiency bill, as agreed upon in conference, is the Senate provision for the payment of Government transportation on the Pacific railroads.

Edmunds' bill to detatch certain counties from the United States Judicial District of California, and to create the Southern Judicial District of California, has passed the Senate.

The Cutting Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—A member of the Foreign Affairs Committee holding close relations with the Administration, stated to-night that the adoption of the Cutting resolutions, should they pass to-morrow, would imply much more than was generally supposed. In the first place, he said, Mexico has been asked to release this man Cutting. Mexico has refused, and has given reasons. The resolutions declare those reasons insufficient, and request the President to renew the demand. Should this renewed demand be refused, our Minister will be at once withdrawn, then probably an extra session of Congress would have to be called. Mr. Belmont, Chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, is working most earnestly for the release of Cutting.

Senate Confirmations and Rejections.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of United States District Attorney White of Washington Territory. The Marshal of the Territory was also confirmed. The nominations of J. M. Adams, to be Register of the Land Office at Spokane Falls, and of Selkirk, to be Register of the Land Office at Sacramento, will not be considered at this session. R. S. Dement was rejected for Surveyor-General of Utah without a division. Fitz-John Porter was confirmed without debate, and by nearly the same vote as that cast for the Fitz-John Porter bill. The nominations of C. H. Potter to be Indian Agent at Fort Omaha and Winnebago Agency, and E. H. Kimmon, to be Postmaster at Jacksonville, Ill., were rejected.

The Alabama Elections.

MONTGOMERY (Ala.), August 3d.—The State elections were quiet. Bingham (Republican) and Turner (Prohibitionist) received but a small number of votes. The entire State Democratic ticket is elected. Chief interest was centered in the local contests. In many counties the Democrats have split to pieces over Probate Judgeships, and the indications are that several independents have been elected. The strife among the Democrats brought negroes to the polls, and the indications are that a large negro vote was polled all over the black belt, the negroes generally supporting the local Democrats, but many voted the straight Democratic ticket for State officers.

Postmasters for California.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The following Postmasters have been appointed for California: T. H. Duffy, at Avila, Tulare county; G. J. Fullington, at Childs, Santa Barbara county; G. D. Tilford, at Goleta, Santa Barbara county; S. J. Johnson, Jr., at Hicksville, Sacramento county; R. Mortimer, at Peters, San Joaquin county; Mrs. M. A. Gains, at Salmon Falls, El Dorado county; J. A. Birmingham, at San Juan, San Benito county.

The Alabama Claims.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The Secretary of the Treasury on Saturday began the issuing of drafts covering the amounts of the awards made by the Alabama Claims Court. There are judgments against the Government for $16,292,687 26, but there are only $5,739,495 41 with which to pay them, so about 35 per cent. only of the claims will be paid. The First Controller is passing upon the claims at the rate of 250 a day. There are 9,183 claims in all, comprising sums of from one dollar up to many thousands. Disputes as to who shall receive the moneys are troubling the department. Many cases are coming up daily. Though each claim is numbered, they are being paid out not in rotation of number, but in rotation of the time of the judgment, those first awarded by the Court being paid first.

Methodist Minister Murdered.

SIOUX CITY (Iowa), August 3d.—Rev. G. C. Haddock, the Methodist pastor of this place, who has been the leader in the prosecution of saloon cases, was shot and instantly killed this evening, while crossing Water street at the corner of Fourth. There is no clue yet to the perpetrator of the crime, but there is no doubt it grew out of the war lately inaugurated on the saloons here. Great excitement prevails.

Horrible Murder and Suicide.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), August 3d.—The Journal's Lincoln, Neb., special says: A horrible murder and suicide is reported from Marysville, the county Postoffice, a few miles northwest of Seward. It seems a young man by the name of Fred Inde had fallen in love with John Ruthke's daughter. An elopement had been contemplated, which was supposed was frustrated by the father. Sunday an altercation took place, and it is supposed the girl sided with her father. This frenzied the young man, who drew a revolver and fired three fatal shots.

The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The Conference Committee on the river and harbor bill to-night reached a complete agreement on the points in dispute, and it will be reported to the House to-day. As agreed upon in the conference the Hennepin Canal clause is so amended as to authorize a survey of the line of the proposed canal by a Board of Government Engineers, who are to report at the next meeting of Congress. Meanwhile no appropriation is made for the beginning of the work of construction.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The river and harbor bill, as finally passed to-day, contains all the debris clauses which were stricken out in the Senate. They were restored through the successful efforts of Markham in the conference committee, aided by other California members. He also secured the restoration of the following items: Wilmington harbor to $75,000; survey of Newport, San Diego and San Luis Obispo harbors to $5,000; survey of San Francisco harbor to $12,000; Redwood creek to $5,000; Mokelumne river to $2,500. The other items were not reduced. Great credit is due Markham for his excellent work as a member of the conference committee. The appreciation of his services found expression in very numerous congratulations bestowed upon him to-day on both sides of the House.

Knights of Labor to Enter Politics—A Platform.

NEW YORK, August 3d.—Master Workman Maguire, who proposes to take 30,000 men and District Assembly No. 49, Knights of Labor, into politics this Fall, has not yet produced his candidate for Mayor of New York, but his political creed has appeared. He would have no President and Vice-President or Senate, but in their places an Executive Board, chosen directly by the people and subject to removal at any time by the House of Representatives. The Government is to assume immediate and complete control of all telegraph and telephone lines, and also of all railroads, canals and means of transportation. There are to be no Governors for States, or Mayor for a city. Executive Boards are to take their places. The Government alone is to issue money. Inventors are no longer to get or hold patents, but are to have bonds from the Government instead. It is demanded that rent be fixed by law, at not above the legal rate of interest. When workmen are not employed they must be put to work upon public improvements. There is to be a progressive income tax, and a tax upon all inheritances. A working day shall be eight hours long only. Mr. Maguire wants a national divorce law, in which divorce depends merely on mutual consent. All tramp, conspiracy, pauper and temperance laws to be abolished.

War Among the Steamship Companies.

NEW YORK, August 3d.—A conference of the steamship companies, at which representatives of all the companies except the Red Star line were present, was held to-day. The conference adjourned on Monday to await instructions from Europe as to cutting rates, and at the meeting to-day it was reported from Rotterdam that the company had cabled to its representatives here to cut $3 below the Red Star line. This will make the rate to Europe $18, and from Europe, $12. Neither of the other companies has as yet heard from their headquarters. Mr. Richard, of the Hamburg and American packet company, says that it was the intention of his company to fight the English lines who had been taking passengers from the continent at reduced rates, and they had organized a direct Baltic line for the purpose of carrying the Scandinavian traffic, which had heretofore been carried by English lines. James A. Wright, Jr., General Passenger Agent of the Red Star line, said: "We are awaiting the action of the conference before making any alteration in our rates."

Arrest of Stamp Stealers.

CHICAGO, August 3d.—Thomas Finucane is under arrest at the Pinkerton National Detective Agency as one of the persons connected with the robbery of the Minneapolis Postoffice on the night of July 8th. The detectives say that, after the robbery, stamps valued at $15,338 were received by Finucane from a man who stole them. The sensational part of the story is, that Supervisor David Shanahan, of South Townsend, has been the first man that received the stamps from Finucane. Finucane is the man who was implicated in the robbery of the Union Iron and Steel Company, when the sum of $12,000 was stolen from the safe. Noyes S. Thompson, an employe of the County Infirmary, and Wicks, an ex-Commissioner, are also implicated, and all are under arrest. They all say they received stamps from Finucane to sell on commission. The men were caught offering large quantities of stamps to merchants at reduced prices.

A Cool Summer Resort.

MOUNT WASHINGTON (N. H.), August 3d.—A northwest wind, blowing at the rate of sixty miles an hour, set in at nightfall yesterday. Snow began to fall at 2:30 this morning, and at 5:30 the ground was covered to a depth of one and one half inches. The wind is blowing at the rate of eighty miles an hour, and windows are thickly covered with frost. The thermometer yesterday registered 85° in the valley, but now marks 28° here.

Portraits on the New Silver Certificates.

WASHINGTON, August 3d.—The new $1 certificate will bear a copy of the Stuart portrait of Martha Washington. A portrait of General Hancock will adorn the $2 certificates. The designs of both are said to be very fine.

Advance in Hops.

CANAJOHARIE (N. Y.), August 3d.—The utterly ruined condition of the hop crop throughout New York State, caused by lice, has created a sudden advance. The growers in this vicinity have repeatedly refused thirty-five cents for those picked in 1885, and yesterday a grower of Windon sold last year's crop at forty cents, which is the highest price paid in three years.

Five Children Burned.

OTTUMWA (Ia.), August 3d.—Monday afternoon three children of Wm. Hauck, living three miles from Keosaqua, Iowa, a grand child of Hauck and two children by the name of Gillette, went to the Des Moines river, and five of them went in bathing, and one getting into a deep hole in the river, the others in trying to extricate the struggling one, all five were drowned. A little girl on shore was so confused she lost her way home home, and it was not until 8 o'clock when she reached the house of a neighbor and told her tale. The bodies were not all recovered until 11 to-day. The children's ages were from 5 to 12 years.

The Heidelberg Celebration.

HEIDELBERG, August 3d.—The visiting deputations which are here to participate in the celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of the foundation of Heidelbery University, gathered in Fest Hall last night and listened to an address of welcome by the Burgomaster on behalf of the city. There were 5,000 persons present. Vigorous cheers were given for the Emperor and Grand Duke of Baden. Crown Prince Frederick William opened the celebration. In his address to the assembly of present and former members of the great institution, the Prince congratulated them upon their possession of a share in the glorious record of Heidelberg University. He said it maintained through many vicissitudes the foremost position in securing religious liberty and the right of scientific inquiry which Heidelberg possessed to-night, together with every quarter of the world. The University also led in the work of fostering faith in the principle of national unity, which was at present Germany's safeguard and strength. "Now that the unity has been regained," continued the Prince, "the maintenance of sufficient virtues of our race calls for the exercise of greater prudence, self-denial and spiritual discipline, in order to promote a happy development of the liberal spirit of the national life of the German people." The address of the Crown Prince was received with great enthusiasm.

More Rioting at Belfast.

BELFAST, August 3d.—There was more rioting here this evening. Crowds assembled on York street and awaited the return of the Catholic excursionists, upon whom they made a fierce attack. The sufferers were chiefly women. A detachment of police charged the attacking party, who stoned and wrecked a number of houses. The mob rapidly increased, and drove back the police. The latter then fired upon the mob, killing a young man and wounding several others. A detachment of soldiers charged bayonets and cleared the streets. The police suffered severely. Some shots were fired from the mob, but without fatal result.

THE CITY BOND QUESTION.

Letter from Ex-Mayor Turner to Correct Some Misunderstandings.

EDS. RECORD-UNION: In this morning's issue of your journal, Mayor Brown in his reply to Judge Beatty makes some statements which I know to be mistakes, and, as he quotes me as an authority for some of them, I feel bound to correct them. I am sure I have no bias either for or against the Judge or the Mayor. I believe they both wish to do right, and are severally confident that if they could enforce their views it would further the interests of the city at large.

To my mind the statement that the payment of the coupons of 1877 was the cause of the whole trouble which has fallen to the Mayor and his associates these last five and a half years, in connection with the city debt, is unfair. And I certainly have never said it was the cause of the "whole trouble," nor do I intend at this time to enter into any discussion as to how much of a factor it has been in the rather dreary sum; I will simply say it did not originate with Judge Beatty. In fact, when it was first suggested at a meeting of citizens called to consider the debt in its then immediate bearings, he opposed it quite bitterly. His strong contention was that the Trustees were bound to levy a tax of one per cent. for the General Fund, so that the Sinking and Interest Fund would be in a better condition to absorb the over-due interest, and this as the only means of preventing those holding it from "harassing the city with law suits." A number of gentlemen felt quite sure that all coupons over four years due were barred by the statute of limitations. Judge Beatty held the strongest presumption that a Court of last resort would hold that they were not barred.

Well, the upshot of it was the meeting agreed to recommend the Trustees to levy one per cent. for the General Fund—Judge Beatty's proposition—and also recommended that in the year 1881 no coupons except those of 1877 be paid, letting all back of that date take care of themselves as best they could. At this Judge Beatty became very angry and left the meeting, swearing he would have nothing more to do with it. The Trustees agreed, and a committee was selected to go to San Francisco and notify the bondholders of the agreement. Albert Gallatin, one of the committee, and myself went to the Judge's office and finally persuaded him to go with the committee.

And now a word about the agreement. In the first place we, in compliance with what seemed to us an imperative law, levied 1 per cent. for the General Fund; (55 per cent. of which we knew must go into the Sinking and Interest Fund, and the same thing has been done this year under mandate from the Supreme Court, and must be annually so done until the debt is all paid.) How about the agreement outside of this? What was it? Was it a contract? Were the faith and credit of the city pledged to anything?

Nothing of the kind! The then Board of Trustees simply said that after the taxes were collected in the following May, if they had it to do they would do thus and so. But in March a new Board was organized, with Mayor Brown at its head. Every phase of the city debt must have been quite familiar to him. He had been for years associated with Judge Beatty as Bond Commissioner. If he had any serious objections to the coupons of 1877 being preferred, they would not have been paid.

It has just occurred to me that my name has been used on the strength of a reply I made to a question put to me by City Auditor McKee some weeks since, which I supposed referred to the payment of some fifteen thousand dollars to Daniel Meyer for past due coupons a year or so before the transaction under review, which was done by and through the Bond Commission.

"What is Woman's Worth?"

Asked a fair damsel of a crusty old bachelor. He did not know, so she said: "W. O. man" (double you, O man). But a woman feels worth little if disease has invaded her system and is daily sapping her strength. For all weaknesses Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" stands unrivaled. It cures the complaint and builds up the system. Send 10 cents in stamps for pamphlet to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Remedy for Lung Diseases.

Dr. Robert Newton, late President of the Eclectic College, of the city of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice, as many of his patients, now living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine, can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of lung diseases. It cures consumption and has no equal for all pectoral complaints.

Low-ceiled rooms are being advocated in England, not only on account of the more cozy appearance of the room, but because it is believed that better ventilation is afforded through the prevention of an upper strata of irremovable foul air.

Santa Cruz Races.

SANTA CRUZ, August 3d.—The first day of the Santa Cruz trotting and pacing meeting opened very favorably, with quite a good attendance and two good races. The first, with four starters, was made quite a close and interesting contest, Flora G. being the winner in three straight heats. Best time, 2:38¾, defeating Allen L., Pedro and Jesse D. Carr's horse. The second race was with the following starters: Jenny B., Borbors and Billy Mathews. The first heat was given to Billy Mathews, although Borbors was the first to cross the line, in 2:37¾, Jenny B. just inside the flag. The pools sold at $10 on Borbors to $6 on the field. The next three heats were captured handily by Borbors. Best time, 2:36¾.

Newspaper Sold.

SAN DIEGO, August 3d.—Douglas Gunn, proprietor of the Daily Union, has sold his paper to an association incorporated as the San Diego Union Company. The terms of sale are not given, but it is known that Mr. Gunn refused $35,000 for the property in March last, since when he has put in new material throughout, and enlarged the paper to accommodate its increasing business. This association is a strong one, commanding ample capital. John R. Berry, who has been connected with the Union staff for nearly two years past, assumes the editorial charge. The Union is the oldest paper in southern California, and among the oldest in the State.

Death of a County Official.

AUBURN, August 3d.—W. L. Munson, County Assessor of this county for the past nine years, and a candidate for renomination on the Republican ticket, died at this place to-day of congestion of the brain.

Barns Burned.

PLACERVILLE, August 3d.—About noon a fire alarm was sounded, which proved to be a barn owned by E. A. Bales, which was burned to the ground. It was set on fire by boys playing with matches. Two hours after a fire broke out opposite the hill in the barns of C. A. Swisler and J. C. Nugent, caused by embers carried from the first fire. A phaeton, hay and wood were consumed in Swisler's barn, and a quantity of wood in Nugent's. A small house owned by P. S. Marey was also burned, and some fencing. Trees prevented the fire from spreading until the firemen got water on the fire. If it had not been for the trees a large part of the town would now be in ashes.

Fatal Altercation.

SONORA, August 3d.—At the Buchanan mine yesterday John Dunn, an employe, had an altercation with David Babbitt. Dunn struck Babbitt on the head with a hammer. Babbitt will probably die.

Forest Fire.

EMIGRANT GAP, August 3d.—A forest fire was started at Redstone Point this morning by a Chinaman burning a yellow jacket's nest. An extensive fire was prevented by taking water from a ditch surrounding the fire. A few cords of wood belonging to Ira Avery were burned. Insured.

ARIZONA.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON ROAD

Progress of the Work—Time of the Completion of the Road.

A big blast was set off at Upper Soda Springs last Saturday evening, and did not cause over $100 damage. One large piece of rock went through the barn, with the other outhouses more or less damaged from flying rock. A heavy blast was also set off in the canyon, between Soda Springs and Berryvale, a few days ago, where the deep open cut is to be made through the ridge in place of tunnel as first proposed. The foundations for the bridges at and below Bailey's are completed, but the bridges had not arrived at last accounts, although expected daily from the East. As soon as the bridges are finished, the track can be speedily laid for several miles in this county toward the Upper Soda Springs.

The pot-holers have sunk several holes in the hillsides below Soda Springs, for blasting out the roadway for the road, and in a very short time the graders will be as busy as bees along the route between Bailey's and Upper Soda Springs, and also in the Big Canyon between Soda Springs and Berryvale, where blasting is now carried on to prepare for grading.

The heavy blast of ten tons of powder, to be set off near Soda Springs by electricity, has not yet been exploded, as the powder has not yet arrived, and the man engineering the job has gone to San Francisco, probably to make the necessary arrangements.

The surveyors and construction superintendents intend to reach Strawberry Valley before the snow storms commence, if the culvert work can be finished, but every effort has been made to get all the skilled labor possible, and it is doubtful whether the work can be pushed along fast enough for such rapid railroad building.

Scobie has established his camp at a flat about a mile south of Uncle Dick's Soda Springs, where the railroad company has fenced in the ground. This place will undoubtedly be the next station above Southern's for delivery of freight and passengers, as there is no chance to gain any station room further north until Strawberry Valley is reached. This new station below Uncle Dick's will no doubt be the stopping-place for all winter. Walbridge has located his store at this place, and other buildings are being put up to make quite a little town. The track will be completed to this point by September 1st.

In the canyon between Uncle Dick's and Soda Springs, the road runs back about two miles and a half, making three tracks within a width of three miles, and crosses the Sacramento river twice above Uncle Dick's Soda Springs.

The culverts are all completed up to Little Castle creek, and cement is now being hauled as rapidly as possible for points above, in crowding the work. Next summer we may anticipate railroad building in Shasta valley, and before another winter connection with the Oregon road will undoubtedly be effected.

It is believed that as soon as the first freshet occurs in the Sacramento river the coming winter, the bridge at Soda Springs will be carried away, as the river is full of trees and logs cut down by the right-of-way force, in clearing the railroad route. The steep hillsides in many places prevented any chance of cutting up the trees into small sections, hence the entire trees rolled down into the stream. After the debris is swept away, however, it will take but little time to put in a new bridge, especially if built by the railroad company's men, probably not more than a day.—Yreka Journal.

A. P. WILLIAMS.

In choosing Abram P. Williams United States Senator to succeed Senator Hearst, the Legislature has selected a man broadly representative of the business interests of the coast, Mr. Williams is intimately identified with commercial affairs in San Francisco, thoroughly informed as to commercial needs, intelligent upon the questions affecting all the industries of the State, and as a business administrator his executive ability is surpassed by that of no other business man. But Mr. Williams has also been active in political life, and is widely known as a leading Republican, who has long been a trusted counselor in its State Committee and other organizations. He is a man of liberal reading, studious and thoughtful. He is clear of judgment, far-seeing and vigorous in all action. Being a man of ample means, he is independent of influences that are supposed to be corrupting. He was at the time of his election in Maine. The office came to him unsought and without his being involved in any campaign for it. His choice was therefore a compliment to his worth, ability and representative character, of which he and his descendants may be more than proud.

THE PURPOSE CONFESSED.

B. Marks sends us a letter, which we cheerfully print, since it illustrates into what a degree of monomania a man may be led:

EDS. RECORD-UNION: In your issue of to-day you accuse the friends of irrigation of hypocrisy because they favor the action of Judge Terry, while their motives are different from those that govern him.

I am here to represent the small-farm interest of Fresno, and in that interest I deny your charge of hypocrisy, so far as it concerns the friends of irrigation, and shall here substantiate our denial. At the same time, we claim that the RECORD-UNION has divested itself of the right to charge hypocrisy to the friends of irrigation since in this matter it is the pot o' the adage, and has no right to call any water hypocrite black.

While the RECORD-UNION has pretended to be friendly to irrigation in its eloquent editorials on its vast benefits, its magnificent results, and its absolute indispensableness to this great valley, it has shown itself a virulent enemy of interior and southern California by its deliberate falsification in the interest of riparianism of the current history of the irrigation movement. If the RECORD-UNION would like to see the proof of this charge of hypocrisy against it, it will take a vast amount of pleasure in producing it.

The friends of irrigation are not hypocritical in this matter. They openly avow their reasons for desiring to reconstruct the Supreme Court. They claim that the Court has disgraced the State by a so-called decision, which is infamous from every point of view from which it can be considered; among which are, disregard of law, of justice, and of common sense; inexcusable ignorance of facts, silly and crude suggestion as to future legal procedure, and deadly destruction to the most vital interests of the State. If you think these points are written at random, you mistake. The limits of this communication do not permit their setting forth, but the RECORD-UNION and other enemies of interior and southern California will see enough on that subject before this irrigation question is settled in the only way it is possible to settle it, which is by a complete reversal of the foolish and destructive so-called decision at the earliest possible moment.

We do not question your right to do exactly what all the enemies of irrigation are doing, namely, to claim to be friends of irrigation while you are doing all you can to obstruct the efforts of the Irrigation Executive Committee to repair the terrible damage inflicted upon the State by the Supreme Court. But we do question your right to charge us with the hypocrisy you are yourself guilty of, when we merely favor the action on the grounds of supposed practicability of that which we would prefer to accomplish on our own ground of mental and judicial imbecility.

B. MARKS.

Sacramento, August 1, 1886.

When Mr. B. Marks charges the RECORD-UNION with hypocrisy, or any sort of falsification or misrepresentation, or that it is the enemy of irrigation or the interior, or of southern California, he simply and flatly falsifies. It would be charitable to say unintentionally falsifies, but none the less his silly charge is wholly false and untrue in every particular. This journal was engaged in the study of irrigation systems for California before Mr. Marks was heard of, and it has been all its years and expects to remain the consistent ardent friend of agricultural interests of the whole State. However, we have no intention of entering upon any defense in answer to the vituperation in which Mr. Marks so far forgets himself, and which he mistakes for strength, as to indulge. The real value of the letter consists in the confession made, and which he claims to make by authority, that the attempt to destroy the independence of the Supreme Court by the creation of vacancies, is not honest. That is to say, the charge of D. S. Terry is a mere make-shift, used not to better the bench or conserve the interests of justice, but to secure the reversal of a given decision. With the first attempt abandoned, and the mask dropped from the second, there is clear sailing in the debate from this on.

We have repeatedly and unmistakably said, and it has been iterated over and again, that the question of systems, riparianism or the doctrine of appropriation, has at no time been taken into account by us in debating the matter of the assault upon the Court. It is an issue above and beyond that, and involving interests beside which all irrigation schemes sink out of sight. It is not the question at all of the soundness or unsoundness of the decision referred to, or of its possible or probable results; it is not a question whether this, that or the other bill, measure or amendment, should be adopted. All these things have nothing to do with our protest against the infamy of the attempt to Mexicanize the State Government.

If the advocates of the several measures before the Legislature can rise to the level of fair debate, they will realize that the position the RECORD-UNION assumes is, so far from being antagonistic to irrigation, that if the decision of the Supreme Court had been all its assailants desire, and the riparianists had engaged in an attempt to undo the Court for that decision by means similar to those now employed, or at all, this journal would be found just where it is now, denouncing such assault as outrageous and revolutionary, and the men who engineer it as the enemies of free government and republican institutions.

COURTS AND REPORTERS IN CONTEMPT.

There is something very amusing in the daily iterated plea of the San Francisco Examiner that the Superior Court has no jurisdiction over its reporter who wrote the tabooed accounts of a trial in Judge Sullivan's court. How it is that a Court of the State is limited in its jurisdiction where a newspaper reporter commits a contempt of court, is not made by any means clear. The Bulletin hits the nail on the head when it says that the willful receiver of stolen goods is as guilty as the thief. The Examiner insists that the Court has jurisdiction only of the persons in the case on trial; that it is not privileged to inquire how newspaper reporters obtain their news, "because that inquiry could throw no light whatever on the divorce case." This is as lucid as darkness. The premise is an unsupportable assertion, the reason offered in support is dogmatic. Evidently the law knowledge of the Examiner is the thinnest sort of gruel. It ought to answer, if it can, this question, "Under our laws and system of government, how does the relation of a man to a newspaper exempt him from the pains and penalties that may be visited by a Court of the country upon a citizen not related to a newspaper?"

The simple statement of the case is this. A Court of the State forbade publicity to be made of certain scandalous testimony given in a case on trial. The San Francisco Examiner, knowing this to be the order of the Court, by surreptitious means obtained, and in contempt of the order of the Court published the prohibited matter. The Court thereupon cited the reporter who wrote and furnished the article to the paper, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. Upon which the reporter's paper entered the plea for its employe that he is a "newspaper man," and not answerable within the jurisdiction of the Court for that reason, and the further one, because the inquiry into the matter of contempt would throw no light upon the case on trial. But the Court denied the excuse and punished the man.

The hollowness of the defense is shown by the statement that a matter of contempt of Court need have no immediate relation to a case on hand. It is a settled principle that in contempt proceedings the act of guilt need not be material to the case; it need have no relation whatever to the issue. It is a side-bar question, a mere incidental matter, and one that relates solely to the maintenance of the dignity of the Court and respect for its high office and its decrees. This is settled law, behind which and beyond which it is not possible to go.

We look upon the Examiner case as one of no mean importance, for if the Courts cannot maintain their position against the novel plea of the paper, then they have no power to punish any one for contempt of Court who is not immediately related to a case pending, and this involves very seriously the character, integrity and usefulness of our Courts, which must be sustained, and their judicial character defended, as necessary to the due enforcement of the laws.

But even if we accept the plea of the Examiner, it is insufficient, for the reason that when its reporter was called as a witness in the case for the purpose of discovering who, in or out of the case, had contemptuously treated a Court order properly made in the case, he became a party to the proceedings the legitimacy of which is not questioned. Therefore, when he admitted that he knew the source from which his information was derived, knew who had violated the order, and refused to disclose that knowledge to the Court on the plea that his word of honor was pledged not to reveal his informant, he became a contumacious witness, and the Court had power, and properly exercised it, to punish him for contempt. From the logic of this view of the case there appears to be no possible escape.

Since the foregoing was put in type, Judge Maguire, to whom the Examiner reporter appealed on a writ of habeas corpus, has remanded the prisoner. The Judge affirms in strong language the power of the Court to punish any one for contempt who is guilty of it, whether related to a case on trial or not. He holds, and he could not hold otherwise under the law, that the Court had exclusive jurisdiction to determine whether or not the matter sought to be elicited by the question was pertinent, relative and material to the issues which were then being tried before him, and adds:

I am entirely satisfied that if, in the course of a trial, the Court finds that its lawful orders are being violated, and that a wholesome provision of the law is being nullified by the misconduct of parties or the treachery of counsel, it has a right, and is bound by duty to institute a searching investigation, not only for the purpose of placing the blame where it belongs, but for the further purpose of maintaining the legal rights of the parties and the public in the case on trial. The law gives to the parties and the public a right to have such cases tried with closed doors, and such proceedings and testimony as may be necessary to enable the Court to enforce that legal right, in substance as well as in form, are as clearly a part of the case as is the testimony taken upon any issue raised by the pleadings.

WHEN a leader of the dominant party in the State Senate confesses, from his place in the chamber, that his vision was failing him on the irrigation question, and that he began to think the only way out was by the State's exercise of the right of eminent domain, he expressed the involvment of thought that has been experienced by all who have looked at this matter with unprejudiced eyes. The more the question is studied the more the force of the suggestion of Governor Stanford is recognized, that the wise way in all this business is to be found in the calm of deeper study and the gathering of more information through some such means as that of a Commission of inquiry and advice.

Sheridan's Reply.

Mayor Brown, Chairman of the Invitation Committee of the Grand Army reception, is in receipt of the following letter from Lieutenant-General Sheridan, which is self-explanatory:

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26, 1886.

Dear Sir: Yours of the 15th inst., transmitting the formal invitation of the people of Sacramento to visit them on the occasion of their reception of the Grand Army of the Republic next month, received to-day. I had hoped to be able to visit the Pacific coast this summer, and, if my desires could have been realized, it would have afforded me great pleasure to accept your invitation, but the prolonged session of Congress has interfered with my plans, and I will not be able to leave this city for some time.

I must, therefore, ask you to express to the Invitation Committee my sincere regrets that I cannot accept their hospitality. Yours, very truly,

P. H. SHERIDAN,
Lieutenant-General.

THE GREAT PARADE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

The Metropolis Crowded with People—Battle Flags and Marching Veterans—Great Generals.

[SPECIAL BY TELEGRAPH TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3d.—To-day was the greatest parade ever witnessed on the Pacific coast. San Francisco is dressed as she never was before. The decorations are magnificent.

The whole interior has contributed to the vast crowd, thronging the streets of the city. It is impossible to say how many strangers are in the metropolis. But to put the number of coast and Eastern people at 50,000 is by no means exaggeration. The great procession moved about 10:40 A. M. The first division was of United States troops, and the second embraced the National Guard of California (the Second and part of the Third Brigades), distinguished guests, Posts of California G. A. R., police, bands, Committee of Management and Commander-in-Chief Burdette and staff.

THE THIRD DIVISION

Contained 1,000 veterans from Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas and Ohio. The fourth and fifth divisions embraced the Department of New York, with thirty-seven old battle flags carried by scarred veterans: the Departments of Connecticut, Virginia, Missouri, Maryland, Maine, Massachusetts and New Jersey. General Logan, in a carriage, rode at the head of the fifth division. The sixth division embraced the Departments of Georgia, Oregon, Washington Territory, Tennessee, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Mexican War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, several bands and a drum corps. The seventh division embraced the Directory of the Veterans' Home, ninety old and disabled soldiers, city officials, guests in carriages and citizens mounted and in carriages. The procession was two hours and seventeen minutes passing a given point.

GENERALS LOGAN AND SHERMAN

Were greeted by enthusiastic shouts as they rode to their places in the line. All along the line there was enthusiastic cheering by the multitude.

Just behind the National Guardsmen was a wagon-load of flowers, from which beautiful little girls strewed flowers in the path of the veterans.

The Department of California made a splendid showing. The Colusa county delegation was conspicuous by reason of an emblem it bore—a staff made of wheat.

Drum corps were attached to nearly all the Eastern delegations. That of Oregon was the largest and best.

The line of march was from Jackson street and Van Ness avenue to Market, to Kearny, to Montgomery avenue, to Montgomery street, to Market, to Mission.

At Lotta's fountain Governor Stoneman, Mayor Bartlett and the G. A. R. officers reviewed the procession.

The estimated number of those in the line is 11,200.

No accidents of noteworthy importance are reported. Good order prevailed, and people manifested the most enthusiastic feeling over the appearance of the veterans.

Walter H. Holmes was Grand Marshal of the day, and his staff was as follows: Edward S. Saloman, Grand Chief of Staff, and C. Mason Kinne, Chief Aid. The aids were R. H. Warfield, J. G. Geisting, J. M. Litchfield, James Kip, Jerome Deasy, Geo. W. Walts, J. M. Davis, B. O. Carr, T. H. Allen, W. H. Aiken, H. H. Linnell, E. W. Bushnell, J. W. Staples, T. H. Goodman, D. M. Cashin, George C. Smart, Frank E. Myers, J. Macdonough.

General Turnbull commanded the National Guard of California in line, and he was accompanied by his staff.

The Department of Massachusetts was the largest in the line, numbering 170 delegates. They bore a miniature copy of the Bunker Hill Monument, that attracted much attention. Lincoln Post of this Department wore blue helmets with gilt bands, and Duhlgren Post, No. 2, wore white helmets. Members of both Posts also wore white belts with swords.

BATTLE FLAGS.

The Maine delegation bore six shot-torn and bullet-pierced, tattered and smoked old battle flags. Among battle flags carried was one that was first to enter Charleston after its surrender. Of the thirty-seven battle flags carried by the Department of New York, it is to be said that nine of them were permitted to be brought to the State by special vote of the Buffalo Historical Society, and then only under the most solemn obligations taken to care for them tenderly and with utmost caution. As the wind blew and rain fell to-day, and the day was damp and raw, and the flags tattered and but shreds, their custodians refused to unfurl them and risk their utter destruction. They are

NEVER AGAIN

To be taken into a procession; this is their last appearance outside the glass cases of the Historical Society, where some of them will be kept, while others will be put in the rotunda of the Capitol at Albany. One of the flags displayed to-day was the flag of the Union Continentals. This company was composed of men too old to go into service, but who made up a home guard. Millard Fillmore, a President of the United States, was once Captain of this company. In 1861 ladies of Buffalo presented this flag to the Union Continentals. Another noted flag was the standard of the United States Fifteenth Regiment Invalid Corps. It is a large blue flag bordered with what was once bright yellow or golden fringe. In the center remains of an eagle and a motto that had been painted thereon could be distinguished, but the standard was so badly torn that the figure was almost effaced. A small, unpretentious American flag was displayed also, ragged, torn and smoke-begrimed. It was the flag that flew at the main-topmast when Farragut was lashed in the rigging during the engagement at Mobile Bay. The Society of

CALIFORNIA VOLUNTEERS

Carried to-day a silk flag riddled by rebel bullets. On one of the stripes is printed in gilt letters: "24 Infantry Cal. Vols." And on the third stripe below is the motto: "Defend the flag." The flag was made by a San Francisco firm, and was presented to this regiment for being the first regiment of California volunteers to go to the front. It was the flag of the "California Hundred." The flag that was carried at the right of the Maine Division was the once magnificent silk battle flag that was presented to the Second Maine Regiment in April, 1861, by the Maine ladies residing in California.

There were three flags of the One Hundredth New York that were in the thickest of the fights at the siege of Yorktown, Williamsburg, Seven Pines, Fair Oaks, Bottom's Bridge, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hill, Wood's Cross Roads, Cole's Island, Morris Island, Folly Island, at the assault and siege of Fort Wagner, Port Walthall, Drury's Bluff, Bermuda Hundred, siege of Petersburg, Newmarket Road, Charles' City Road, Hatcher's Run, Fort Grigg, and at Appomattox Courthouse. The "Old Hundredth New York," under Colonel James M. Brown, were in active duty during the war from the time they were mustered into service, in September, 1861, until August 28, 1865, when their shattered ranks were mustered out. After the battle of Fair Oaks this gallant regiment was adopted by the Buffalo Board of Trade, and was known ever after as the Board of Trade Regiment.

The flag of the

CALIFORNIA HUNDRED

Excited great interest though only a few shreds clung to the staff. Formerly it bore on its sides the names of the battles where it led the front rank and the armies in which its bearers served—Potomac River, Orange & Alexandria Railroad, Shenandoah Valley, Rappahannock River, James River, Petersburg, Appomattox River; the upper red stripes the armies they served in—Department of Washington, Army of the Potomac, Army of the Shenandoah, Sheridan's Cavalry; the lower red stripes their chief campaigns—Mosby's guerrillas, Early's defeats, capture of Richmond, surrender of Lee, grand review; on white stripes were the names of the fifty battles in which they participated—South Anna Bridge, Brooksville, Ashby's Gap, Coyle's Tavern, Little River Pike, Drainesville, Rectortown, Point of Rocks, Aldie, Frederick Pike, Tenaillytown, Fort Reno, Fort Stevens, Rockville, Poolsville, Leesburg, Snicker's Gap, Nolan's Ford, Shepherdstown, White Post, Middletown, Kernstown, Cedar Creek, Winchester, Berryville Pike, Charleston, Summit Point, Hallstown, Berryville, Smithfield, Opequan Creek, Knox Ford, Front Royal, Shale Mountain, Surry Courthouse, Mills' Ford, Waynesboro', Mount Crawford, Tom's Brook, Strasburg, Madison Courthouse, Gordonville, White Oak Road, South Anna, Dinwiddie Courthouse, Five Forks, South Side Railroad, Devil's Ford, Sailor's Creek and Appomattox Courthouse. On the center stripes are the following words: "California Hundred and California Battalion; organized October, 1862; discharged August, 1865; 500 mustered in, 182 mustered out."

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3d.—The day of the great parade of the Grand Army of the Republic opened gray and chilly, but to those who were to march over the long route this did not have a depressing influence. When the fog had been driven away by the sun, and the streets were as bright as sunlight could make them, the cool breeze from the ocean made it evident that for the parade the day would be perfect. There was a bracing element in the air, which made marching less tiresome than usual, and the absence of heat enabled the veterans to go from one end of the route to the other without discomfort. The city to-day

PRESENTED A SIGHT NEVER TO BE FORGOTTEN

By San Franciscans. Seldom, if ever before in her history, have so many visitors been seen in her streets. There is no exaggeration that it is safe to say that, in addition to the 15,000 visitors from beyond the Sierras, fully as many, if not more, came, for this day at least, from all parts of the State. The towns within a radius of 100 miles contributed a good share of their population. Early in the morning family parties from the suburban towns came to the city, and secured places favorable to see the mammoth parade. They came to make a day of it, and armed with a picnic supply of rations. The early ferry steamers were jammed—standing-room even was at a premium. The crowd moved all in one direction—toward the streets through which the procession was to pass. By 9 o'clock nearly all favorable positions for outlook had been secured. Still the people came pouring in never-ending streams from the ferries, from the outskirts, and from all the residence portions of the city. By 10 o'clock Market, Kearney and Montgomery streets were jammed. There seemed at that time

FIVE DISTINCT LINES OF HUMANITY.

Along either side, by the curbing, were two lines of people waiting for the coming of the veterans. In the street, moving restlessly up or down, as the freaks of the mass directed, was a moving stream, and beyond them, over the two stationary lines of waiting humanity, were two other crowds moving slowly on the sidewalks. Over half the crowd certainly decided on Market street as the best place for observation, and just when the procession turned in from Van Ness avenue the street was almost one solid mass, which the few policemen were powerless to control, and which gave way only when the advance platoon of officers came down the street. Every available space was captured by the sight-seers. There seemed no hight which the enthusiastic spectator could not overcome. Even the

LOFTY TOWERS OF THE NEW CITY HALL

Were crowded with spectators, and the Palace Hotel roof had a cresting of curious humanity. The Posts began forming on Van Ness avenue. The first to arrive on the scene for the procession were the Aids, mounted and glittering. The regular troops from the Presidio were the first of the military to arrive. Next appeared the mounted police squad. The Iowa delegation were the first of the Grand Army men to appear on the avenue. Soon after the Iowa men appeared, the Grand Army delegations came in rapid succession. The troops and Grand Army men arrived from every direction. Soon a long line of

BLUE-COATED VETERANS EXTENDED ALONG THE EASTERN SIDE

Of Van Ness avenue, down to and into Market street. On the west side of the street were drawn up the National Guard of California, the United States troops, the line of carriages containing distinguished guests and officials, and all the bodies which covered as escort. A score or more of bands, clad in bright colors; as many more drum corps, also gaily clad—these added to the general bright effect of the array. The comrades of the G. A. R. Posts of California, with few exceptions, carried each an American flag, and the fluttering line of flags extended many blocks along the avenue. A dozen bands, at once seized with the same impulse, played as many tunes; the sounds of cannon in the distance, the signal for forming and starting the procession, punctuated the tunes. It was some time after the hour assigned for moving that the procession was under way. When the word of command came and echoed along the line, twenty or more brass-headed sticks were flourished in the air fantastically by drum-majors, drums rattled, and brass bands played, and bugles signaled. The Grand Army stood while the line of escort passed in review. Then, when the rear of the first division moved, the veterans wheeled into colnmn, and the parade was under way.

IT TOOK TWO HOURS AND TEN MINUTES,

Including stops, when it was fairly started, to pass a given point where it was timed, or about one hour and a half actual time. One gentleman, who counted and estimated the procession when it reached Montgomery street, found that there were then about 8,200 persons in line. Many had left the ranks before then, however, and it is probable that there were over 10,000 in line at the start. Just prior to the start General Logan passed up Van Ness avenue between the lines, and had a flattering reception all along. The Grand Army men waived their flags, the National Guard men cheered, and bands of music played until his carriage was by them, on its way to its station in the first division.

THE PRINCIPAL INTEREST WAS CENTERED

In the veterans, the men who had taken part in making history. The police, the National Guard, the United States troops, and all the first division, was complimented as it passed. The warmest applause was reserved for the veterans in the first and succeeding divisions. The Department of California was very largely represented, and the Posts of which the veterans are members are all over the State. Lincoln Post marched in solid phalanx, and the tattered war flag which they carried was cheered at several points. That was the right of the line of Grand Army Posts. From that point backward over a long distance the waiving of flags carried by the Grand Army men rose and fell, producing an extremely pretty effect.

THE FINE APPEARANCE OF GEO. H. THOMAS POST

Called out applause. Just behind the drill corps of the Post the New Jersey Zouaves were found. Their uniform was showy—red caps with white plumes, white coats, red trousers, with black stripes, and brown leggings. The corps carried a number of trophy flags. The sober, black suits of Thomas Post set off the gay appearance of the crack New Jersey Post with strong effect. The Posts from the interior turned out well, and made a good appearance. The veterans were cheered at many points. Some sang war songs at intervals as they marched. Joe Hooker Post astonished the spectators with two girl drummers, who rattled out music in the drum corps in good shape, and the girls were cheered. Appomatox Post carried a tattered battle-flag. A Stockton Post had another. The visiting delegates with varying numbers marched steadily and took much evident interest in what they saw.

[THIRD DISPATCH.]

THE NIGHT PROCESSIÓN.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3d.—The streets from the Occidental Hotel to the Mechanics' Pavilion were thronged to-night to witness the parade from the former to the latter place. The procession was composed of a wagon in the lead which carried a crew of imps who kept a cauldron of red fire burning the whole distance passed over. The Flambeaux Club, of Topeka, Kansas, and a detail of Grand Army comrades from the various Posts of California acted as escort to Commander-in-Chief Burdette.

At the pavilion a reception was tendered to the G. A. R., the Society of the Army of the Potomac, the Loyal Legion, Woman's Relief Corps, and kindred societies. The pavilion was filled to its utmost capacity. An address of welcome on behalf of California was delivered by Governor Stoneman, and on behalf of the city by Mayor Bartlett, to both of which Commander-in-Chief Burdette responded. General W. T. Sherman followed Burdette, and in remarks which were at times very humorous paid a hearty compliment to the ladies and gentlemen of California for their unbounded hospitality.

[FOURTH DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3d.—One unexpected result of the procession, and which to many was very serious, was the rush to restaurants immediately after the parade was over. Three hundred thousand people, including visitors, had been standing from 8 o'clock to twenty minutes to 3 without anything to eat. As soon as the cry went up, "It's all over!" the half-famished beings rushed to the restaurants, and so great was the crush that, within five minutes, the proprietors had to lock their doors, or it would have been impossible for the waiters to serve those who had secured places. Several cases of women fainting from hunger and fatigue are reported. Those who had to wait until the first rush was over made a descent on the bakeries and fruit stands, and cleaned up everything in sight. To make matters worse, most of the large restaurants, although they had laid in large extra supplies, ran out of both bread and meat, and as the markets were closed it was found impossible to replenish the larders. All sorts of devices had to be resorted to, with such success that every one managed to get something. As the day was delightfully cool no accidents from heat are reported.

Special Numbers.

The San Francisco Call of Tuesday was a mammoth paper. It consisted of no less than 28 pages of eight broad columns to each page. There were no large cuts to displace matter, but numerous portraits. Outside of the ordinary news matter and recital of current events, the text of the paper was given up to the history of the great events of the war of the Rebellion, sketches of prominent Grand Army members, and of distinguished men of the nation, living and dead, to accounts of the arrival and reception of Grand Army delegates and visitors at Francisco, and to articles with illumina'ed sketches, on these subjects: Personal sketches of men of the war; big guns of the artillery service; surgery in the war; the Quartermaster, and his place in war; personal sketches of leading Grand Army men and delegates; great events of the war; the naval work of the war; the sanitary fund, and the work of the Commission in California; the great men of the army; great battles of the war; veterans of the Department of California; the Woman's Relief Corps; rise and progress of the Grand Army of the Republic; Past Commanders of the order; biographical sketches of every delegate to the National Encampment, classified by States (a work that must have engaged weeks of labor and an energetic working out of plans of which there is no parallel in the history of journalism). In addition there is a page of local social news and the usual make-up matter of a city daily. It is the largest paper, we believe, ever issued upon the coast, and is certainly the most personal one in the history of newspaper work. The issue must have involved tremendous and unremitting labor and a heavy outlay of money. It is by all odds the most exhaustive Grand Army edition ever issued, and if reduced to book form would make an octavo volume of over 500 pages of long primer type, in which the general run of books is set. We congratulate the Call upon its superb effort and splendid accomplishment. It has certainly borne off the palm.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Monday was a special Grand Army edition, and a splendid number. It consisted of sixteen pages, of nine narrow columns to the page, set in lean nonpariel type. It embraced a comprehensive history of the war and of the Grand Army of the Republic. Except for maps, no space was taken up by cuts. Much space was given to accounts of California lands for sale, advantages of the State for home-seekers, a map of all railroad and Government land in northern California, with accurate descriptions of locations, etc. In addition, all the usual matter of the daily issue was presented. It was a fine paper, creditable in the highest degree to its publishers, and evidencing a great amount of labor and research. It is especially a valuable number for northern California interests.

INDIGESTION.

"I suffered for more than a year with Indigestion, and during the last six months I was very bilious, occasionally having a Dumb Chill, followed by Fevers, which prostrated me for weeks. I took Simmons Liver Regulator, and for several months I have been as stout and hearty as any man could desire to be. I am thoroughly satisfied that it is all it is recommended for Indigestion and bilious complaints, for mine was certainly a stubborn case. I have heard many of my friends speak of it, and all agree that it possesses all the virtues you claim for it."—A. H. HIGHTOWER, Conductor on M. & W. R. R.

"My husband being blind requires him to lead a very sedentary life, and, consequently, he suffers greatly from Indigestion. Having heard of Simmons Liver Regulator, he commenced using it regularly. The Indigestion has left and he is now enjoying better health than he has known for years."—MRS. STEPHEN MÉNARD, Macon, Ga.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Neighbor

In your own community, wherever you are, can tell you—if you do not happen to know them yourself—of cases within his knowledge demonstrating that AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is an ever reliable and thorough purifier of the blood: one that will eradicate from the system every atom of the taint of Scrofulous, Mercurial, or Contagious Diseases; enrich impoverished blood; strengthen enfeebled vital organs; invigorate and build up the system, as is in the power of no other medicine.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Has been nearly forty years standing the test of the world's use, and the best proofs that it has successfully met the requirements upon it are, that

Leading physicians endorse it as the best blood purifier known;

There is a great annual increase in the demand for it;

Voluntary testimonials as to its efficacy are constantly offered in great numbers, by persons whom it has cured of diseases born of corrupted blood, even hereditary once, and those of many years standing.

Cleanliness and purity make Parker's Hair Balsam the favorite color restorative. To regain your health use Parker's Tonic. mr17-1tW

The Great American Chorus.—Sneezing, snuffing and coughing. This is the music all over the land just now. And will be until Fall: "I've got such an awful cold in my head." Cure it with Ely's Cream Balm or it may end in the toughest form of Catarrh. Maybe you have Catarrh now. Nothing is more nauseous and dreadful. This remedy masters it as no other ever did. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Applied by the finger to the nostrils. Pleasant, certain, radical. d7-1yMWF

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mr15 1yMWS

For nearly 34 years I have been a victim of Catarrh. I have tried many remedies, receiving little or no relief. I bought one bottle of Ely's Cream Balm and derived more real benefit from that than all the rest added together. You can recommend it as being a safe and valuable medicine.—[A. L. FULLER, Danby, N. As one having used Ely's Cream Balm I would say it is worth its weight in gold as a cure for Catarrh. One bottle cured me.—[S. A. LOVELL, Franklin, Pa. See advertisement. d7 1yMWF

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Board of Supervisors.

The Board met yesterday, all the members present. Minutes read and approved.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of furnishing wood for the County Hospital, recommended that J. L. Jackson be awarded the contract for 75 cords of whiteoak four-foot wood, at $6 25 per cord; John Skelton, 60 cords of liveoak, at $6 70, and W. E. Osborn, 20 cords of pine wood, at $6—all to be delivered at the hospital. On motion of Mr. Fassett, the report was adopted.

The matter of the petition of John T. Stoll and others for the removal of Dr. J. T. Parkinson from the office of Dispensary Physician, and the election of some one in his place, on the ground that Dr. Parkinson was not a citizen of the United States, came up for hearing in accordance with previous continuance. A communication from W. D. Comstock and Geo. L. Schafer was read, asking that their names be removed from said petition. A. M. Johnson asked that the hearing of the matter be postponed for one month, owing to the sickness of Grove L. Johnson, Dr. Parkinson's attorney, who is now absent at Santa Cruz. Mr. Steinman moved to postpone until September 7th, and the motion prevailed.

A communication from A. Thornton, of New Hope, San Joaquin county, asking the Board to contribute toward the sum necessary for the construction of the Galt and New Hope bridge, was read and placed on file. The communication stated that the cost of the bridge would be $1,800, and if Sacramento county would pay $500 of it the county of San Joaquin and the people of New Hope and vicinity would pay the remainder of the expense.

Clunie Opera House.

Despite the fact that half the town was out of town last night, a good house greeted Bella Moore in the melodramatic play "A Mountain Pink." The young lady after the conclusion of the first act was twice called before the curtain, an unusual mark of favor. Her success is due to her method, and her method is unconsciousness. That is, she does not strive for effect. She assumes all the attributes of a part, by endeavoring to feel precisely as one in such a situation in reality would, and trusts for the expression to follow. Where this is done success is certain. The good actor is unconscious of gesture, or tone, or position. He is conscious only of the part filled, and leaves all else to natural courses. Mr. Hennig, as leading gentleman of the company, makes a good appearance, has fine stage presence, plays with spirit and reads with feeling. Louis Eagan, a young man, well fills an old man's part—always a difficult assumption. Miss Midgeley has a thankless role, that of a vengeful, jealous woman, but she wins deserved favor for her spirit in it, while Miss Russell, in an unimportant part, is graceful and artful to a degree to make it quite prominent. The play will be repeated this evening. It improves on acquaintance, and so does the company as a whole.

Lack of Evidence.

Thomas Wiley and Ah Sam, who were arrested by Constable Hanson for conducting a "tan" game in the Courtland Chinatown, was tried in Justice Post's Court yesterday, District Attorney Buckley appearing for the people and W. A. Anderson and Matt. F. Johnson for the defendants. The Constable was the only witness examined. He testified that he found the game in progress, Wiley "dealing" and Ah Sam sitting near by, apparently keeping watch over the money, and succeeded in seizing the "lay out" used and produced it in Court as evidence. When it came to giving an explanation of the workings of the game, the officer was entirely at sea, and could not show that it really was "tan" or any other game prohibited by statute. The prosecution did not have any other testimony, the defense did not need any, and the Court ordered the defendants discharged.

COULD NOT FIND THEM.—The case of Wm. Davis, who was arrested at Walnut Grove, by Constable Hanson, for stealing a boat from Cal. Perkins' ranch, near the Elkhorn, will come up for hearing before Justice Scully, in Washington to-day. It would have been heard before, but was postponed to enable the Constable to make a search for the two men arrested with Davis, but who jumped from the steamer at a landing this side of Courtland, while being brought to the city Sunday morning, and escaped. The officer made a thorough search and inquiry for many miles along the river on Sunday and Monday, but failed to learn anything as to the whereabouts of the escapes.

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTIONS.—Robert Barnett, Collector of Internal Revenue, makes the following report of collections for the year ending July 31, 1886: Penalties, $22,641 99; beer stamps sold, $63,867 70; spirit stamps sold, $117,478 60; cigar and cigarette stamps sold, $7,136 27; tobacco stamps sold, $55 08; special tax stamps sold, $108,081 84; total $319,289 48. This is a good showing, being an increase over the year ending July 31, 1885, of $53,487 15. The expenses of the district in collecting the same were $5,849 40 less than those of last year.

MECHANICS' B. AND L. ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of the Mechanics' Building and Loan Association, Monday evening, the reports presented showed the affairs of the organization to be in a prosperous condition. Directors were elected for the ensuing year, as follows; W. D. Stalker, Geo. B. Blue, Dr. G. G. Tyrrell, D. A. Leich and — Watkins. Subsequently the Directors organized by electing W. D. Stalker, President; Geo. B. Blue, Vice-President; J. E. Mills, Treasurer, and Chas. R. Parsons, Secretary.

DEATH TRAPS.

Where They Are to be Found on J and K Streets.

That Sacramento should have an inspector of buildings was the cry that went up on every hand when Moore's Opera House fell some years ago, burying many human beings in its debris. The same cry was heard when the Coolot balcony fell, at the southwest corner of Eighth and K streets, a year or two later, on the 4th of July, breaking the bones of some women, and maiming for life a number of children. We should have a Building Inspector, was again heard some three years ago, when the Grand Army Hall collapsed and sent to eternity five members of the First Artillery Band. "We should have an inspector of buildings," was heard on every hand yesterday morning, when poor Fritz Herberg was picked from out the rotten debris of the collapsed awning of the Stoll building, at the southwest corner of Eighth and J streets, and conveyed to his home on K street, between Sixth and Seventh, where the attending surgeons ascertained that both his ankles were not only dislocated but fractured. "We ought to have an inspector of buildings," said General Hart, who was passing at the time, and miraculously escaped being buried by the falling ruins.

That we will ever have a Building Inspector is in no wise probable. If such a large number of collapsed buildings, falling awnings, accompanied with such fatal results will not stir the authorities to action, then indeed does it seem that no reform in that direction would be probable. That buildings are constantly being erected that are in violation of all architectural laws, so far as strength is concerned, is a matter of common notoriety. That many buildings on J and K streets, old brick structures that have stood the fires and floods of years agone, are tottering against each other, lean worse than the Tower of Pisa, is evident to all who have noticed their bulged walls, settled pillars, etc. That the public may know something of these death-traps—for they deserve no better name—a representative of the RECORD-UNION took a walk along J and K streets yesterday, and tried to locate where the next disaster was likely to occur. He found so many that it was hard to discriminate between them as to which was the most imminently dangerous, but it can be said, however, that most of them are the property of non-residents, who refuse to allow their agents to make any repairs, no matter how necessary. The next accident, or series of accidents, will likely occur on next Wednesday, during the Grand Army reception parade; the next when the circus parade takes place, a few weeks later, and similar accidents will succeed each other on all occasions when a large number of people are called upon the street at the same time. There are few balconies on J and K streets outside those of the Clunie building and the various hotels that are able to support any weight, and at any time a half-dozen people go upon them, not only are their lives in danger, but all the lives of those on the sidewalk beneath are imperilled. They are old, affected with dry rot, spring from the buildings, and while they present a semblance of strength, it is entirely deceptive—a mere showing of putty and paint.

Among those that should receive immediate attention, that should be condemned because of their actual danger to the traveling public, are the following:

The entire awning around the building at the southwest corner of Eighth and J streets. The entire structure is rotten; the supports are not plumb, but in some instances more than a foot out of line.

The awning in front of 619 J street is rotten and dangerous.

Nos. 614 and 616 J street are no better—while not quite so rotten, are equally as dangerous. One little support holds up both awnings and is liable to fall with the least weight. A horse tied to the post, if it should pull back, would bring the entire structure into the street.

No. 624 J street is a patched-up, rotten awning, liable to give a newspaper reporter an item and the Coroner a subject at any time.

Nos. 603, 527, 525, 505 and 507 J street are in the same deplorable condition, and regular eye-sores.

Nos. 405 and 407 J street do not belong to a non-resident, yet the supports of the balcony all lean a foot or more, and look as though the entire structure was ready to topple upon the heads of the passers by. This it will probably do some day, and then the owner, a man of wealth, may expect to pay heavy damages.

Nos. 415, 417, 216, 218, 220, 127 and 123 J street, are old, rickety and rotten, and a disgrace to the street. They ought to be condemned and torn down.

No. 1021 Second street, opposite the Union Hotel, is an eye-sore as well as a very dangerous awning.

K street has stronger and more substantial buildings as a general thing than J, and her awnings are somewhat better, but none are exceptionally good. Those that need looking after immediately are Nos. 108, 106, 210, 212, 306, 319, 401, 716, 806, 808 and 918. They are anything but substantial structures.

A Swindler Decamps.

An individual giving the name of Henry Harvey appeared in the city ten days or two weeks ago, representing that he was from Salem, Or., a dealer in boots and shoes, and that he desired to find a good location in Sacramento, to which he would bring from Salem his stock of goods. He finally procured from Mrs. H. Kohler a lease of her store, No. 515 J street, for one year, signing the papers "Henry Warren," but in all his other transactions in the city his name was "Harvey." He then had Sprague & Elliott do carpenter work to the amount of about $200 in fitting the store up for his uses; employed a painter to do some ornamentation; purchased from Ben Cohen curtains, etc., to the value of $17; from S. J. Jackson about $50 worth of hardware, and from D. McKay a set of harness, whip and lap-robe, worth $35, forgetting in every instance to make cash payment. About the close of last week, finding that he was nearing an explosion, he went to M. Hirsch and offered to sell the articles placed in the store by Jackson and Cohen for $17. Hirsch saw that there was something wrong, declined to buy, and immediately notified the dealers named, who took prompt steps to recover their property; but Harvey, when he saw that his scheme had failed, hastened from the store and slipped away through an alley, since when he has not been seen. Subsequently McKay was informed of what had taken place, and called upon the police for assistance in finding the smooth-talking boot and shoe man, and in recovering his harness. If having been ascertained that the latter had rented a house on Eighth street, between H and I, officer Ferral went there yesterday morning, entered through a window, searched the premises, and found that the only articles in the house were the harness, whip and lap-robe, which the rascal had concealed there. So far as heard from, the carpenters and painter are the only persons much injured by his operations.

Tunneling Under the Tracks.

Colonel Von Schmidt came to the conclusion on Monday that it would not be judicious to attempt to lead the pipe from the dredger into China slough through the passageway constructed beneath the tracks by the railroad company to enable their employes to reach the Third-street bridge from the shops when the tracks were full of cars, and arrangements were made for a box tunnel, four feet wide, to be constructed beneath the tracks midway between the depot and the Third-street bridge, and a force of laborers commenced operations upon it yesterday. The work will take about a week to complete, as it will be necessary, in addition to making the excavation, to put long timbers beneath the ties on each of the tracks to prevent accident in consequence of trains passing while the tunnel is being constructed. Meanwhile the dredger is gradually working into a convenient position in the bed of the old American for commencing operations toward filling the slough when everything is ready.

THE UNITED STATES SENATOR.—The account of the election of United States Senator, as given in full in our Legislative report yesterday morning, elicited throughout the day favorable comments from the business community, from the fact that Mr. Williams is the second, only, that has been chosen in California direct from among business men to represent the State in the Federal Senate.

Nearly all the members of the Legislature went to San Francisco by the 6 o'clock train yesterday morning, to witness the Grand Army parade.

The highest and lowest Signal Service temperature yesterday in Sacramento was 96° and 57°, with northerly and southerly winds and clear weather.

The local train from San Francisco was an hour and twenty minutes behind time in its arrival here yesterday noon, having been laid out by down trains.

An officer of San Luis Obispo county brought up last evening, en route to the State Prison at Folsom, Robert Daniels, who is to serve six years for burglary.

The Yolo county fee bill for jury service during the recent term of the Superior Court amounts to $2,875 50, of which amount the Harlan jury drew $1,335 25.

The State Board of Equalization is in session this week, making arrangements for the notifying of corporations, counties, etc., to show cause why their assessments should not be raised.

Yesterday morning Isidore H. Simon, a traveling salesman, had a violent attack of hemorrhage of the lungs while at the depot, and was taken home, where at last accounts he was lying seriously ill.

J. Frank Clark telegraphs from Caspar, Mendocino county, that the remains of his daughter, Mrs. Ada L. Colburn, who died at that place last Saturday, will be brought to Sacramento for interment.

William Carragher, who fell through a J-street building, from the skylight in the roof to the basement floor, a few days ago, is able to be about again, the only inconvenience suffered being from the cut on his wrist.

The horses Killarney, Sur Del, Pedro and others, that have been worked recently at Woodland, are to be brought to this city to-day by James Linden, who will train them at the Park for the various racing meetings soon to commence.

The last of the Grand Army delegates came through from the East by a train which arrived here at 8:45 A. M. yesterday. The regular "overland," which reached the city about 11 A. M., had on board only a few stragglers, who had stopped off from other trains at various places en route.

R. Johnson, recently convicted at Woodland of embezzling a horse belonging to Joel Woods, of Capay valley, in May, 1884, has been sentenced by Judge Garoutte to imprisonment at Folsom for one year. His attorney will take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The following settlements were yesterday made with the State Controller: Surveyor-General, $363; Register of the State Land Office, $122 50; Directors of the Home for the Adult Blind, $339 40. The various amounts were paid into the State treasury.

In Department Two of the Superior Court yesterday John L. Pearson, a native of Nova Scotia, was admitted to citizenship on the testimony of Robert Rowland and Gus. Lavenson; and Julius Penkonin, a native of Germany, on the testimony of H. Wittpen and Gottlieb Frey.

The Salvation Army, in its march about town last evening, was followed by a crowd of boys beating coal oil cans as drums, and having a great amount of amusement. No one seemed to know whether the youthful contingent was introduced by the Army people to attract attention, or was a side-show arranged by wicked outsiders.

The Democratic County Central Committee will meet at the Capital Hotel Saturday, at 1 P. M., to make arrangements for the coming State and County Conventions. Three vacancies are to be filled—O'Laughin, deceased; Beveridge, removed to Vallejo, and Stephens, removed by civil service reform.

C. D. Brown, the railroad yardman whose hand was crushed a few days ago while he was engaged in coupling cars, is getting over his injury as rapidly as could have been hoped for. He did not lose any of his fingers in consequence of the accident, and the lacerations of the flesh are healing nicely.

Miss Anna Boyle and company were to have given a performance of "Convict 113" at Woodland Monday night, but the Mail says that "owing to the excessive heat, and the further fact that most of the theater-going portion of our population are at San Francisco in attendance on the G. A. R. Encampment, there was no performance."

The Freeport Good Templars have elected the following officers: C. J. Schriner, W. C. T.; Miss Nellie Bayles, W. V. T.; J. H. Beach, W. S.; Miss F. M. Beach, W. F. S.; Frank Kirtlan, W. T.; Freddy Kirtlan, W. M.; Miss Dora Myers, W. I. G.; Nathan D. Hack, W. O. G. The officers elected will be installed on next Saturday night, by the S. D.

A very beautiful meteor was seen about 7:30 last evening crossing the eastern sky from south to north. It seemed to be the size of a water bucket, and of a peculiar appearance, resembling molten metal as it runs from the cupola of a furnace. A long trail of light followed it, and as it disappeared over the Grant there seemed to be drops of fire falling from it.

Officers Yager and Ferral arrested at the depot on Monday two suspicious characters, strangers in town, apparently belonging to the class that watch and prey, as it was thought they might have designs upon the pockets of people in the crowd assembled to greet the Grand Army excursionists. Yesterday morning they were released from custody, and took their departure from the city.

The Supervisors of Yolo county have purchased the J. F. Garrett, or Douglas, property, near Woodland, for use as a County Hospital and Poor Farm, paying for it $13,000. It is thought that an outlay of $1,100 more will fit it for the accommodation of forty-six patients. The average number in the hospital is about twenty. There were sixteen patients in the institution August 1st.

The report of the Howard Benevolent Association for the month of July, 1886, shows that 12 men, 44 women and 106 children were assisted by the granting of 689 miscellaneous dispensations and 128 articles of clothing, 16 wood orders, 9 rents paid, and 11 pairs of shoes purchased. The applications for assistance have decreased considerably in the past month, owing to opportunities for work being offered.

On a warrant sworn out in Justice Post's Court, Antone Marty was arrested yesterday by Constable Harvey for a battery alleged to have been committed upon Daniel Kahn, near the Catholic Cemetery, on Monday. Marty gave a bond for his appearance for trial to-morrow at 10 A. M. He admits the battery, but says he committed it in self-defense, as Kahn had drawn a knife upon him.

A dispatch from New York states that Col. S. D. Bruce, of the Turf, Field and Farm, who came out to Sacramento to act as auctioneer at the recent sale of Theodore Winters' blooded stock, has returned home highly pleased with the trip and profoundly impressed with the natural advantages that California has for the breeding and development of horses. Although a Kentuckian, Bruce says that he has never seen the equal of the California establishments, and especially that of Leland Stanford at Palo Alto.

The Refreshment Committee for the G. A. R. reception will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Aztec Club rooms. The Hospitality Committee meets to-morrow evening. Mr. Buchanan, who is acting on its behalf in receiving proffers from citizens of rooms for the accommodation of the visitors on "Sacramento Day," received yesterday many responses to the committee's call for accommodations in families, and it is evident that the Sacramento public are awakening to the duty devolving upon them of seeing that the veterans are well-cared for and comfortably quartered.

A Word to Householders.

It is to be regretted that the citizens of this city have not responded as heartily to the repeated requests of the Grand Army Committee for accommodations for visitors as had been expected. There will be in Sacramento on the night of the 11th fifteen hundred or more Grand Army representatives as guests of the city, and our people should take a pride in entertaining them in a decent and hospitable manner. Indeed, the honor of the city is pledged to this end. We have invited these veterans to come and visit us—to view our city and inspect our flower gardens, orchards, vineyards and grain fields, and partake of the luscious fruits to be gathered for them. Our people stand in exactly the same position in regard to these Grand Army veterans that any citizen would to a visitor whom he had invited to be a guest under his roof. They will be here, by our express and urgent invitation, and it should be our pride to see that they do not have to wander about the streets for want of beds, nor go hungry because of our inhospitality. These veterans would deserve better of any community, even were they not its invited guests. Many of the persons selected to canvass among the householders and families of the city for one night's accommodations for Grand Army visitors have not done their duty, and some others have not met with the best success. Accommodations have not as yet been tendered for more than one-half the number expected; and it is all important that every family that can accommodate one or more guests should at once notify the committee through A. N. Buchanan, at 508 J street, either personally or by letter. It is surprising how much each can do if but actuated by the proper spirit. Californians—and especially Sacramentans—have always enjoyed the reputation of being liberal and hospitable, and this coming occasion will be one which, above all others, they should strive to do themselves credit in this particular. Let every one act to-day.

Who is Boss of the Business?

EDS. RECORD-UNION: What are the business men on K street thinking about, that they should submit to the treatment they are receiving at the hands of the men whom they pay to sprinkle that thoroughfare? Tuesday that street was so dusty up to nearly 7 o'clock in the evening that a little wind would have raised blinding clouds of it; but at about that hour—when it had become nice and cool, and there was no danger of the drivers getting sun-tanned—the carts came out and deluged the street with water. The very act of pouring the water upon the street raised great clouds of dust. At that time most of the stores had closed, travel had ceased, and there was little necessity for sprinkling anyhow. Water is wanted on the streets in the daytime, so that goods in stores may be protected from dust, and the ground and pavements made cool. The people pay the sprinklers, but it is the duty of the Street Superintendent to see that they do their duty and earn the money. A SUFFERER.

Where is He?

EDS. RECORD-UNION: What is the matter with the Street Commissioner? Has he resigned, gone to the springs, or has he concluded to just draw his salary and let the town go to the devil? The town needs a Street Commissioner, and if we can't get one in any other way, I propose that the Governor shall include it in his next proclamation calling for an extra. The streets are unsprinkled, the sidewalks torn up, dilapidated and covered with obstructions, and no Street Commissioner in sight. Seventeenth street, from O to Q, is dug up the entire length, with a deep trench. Of course no lights are put out, for we have no Street Commissioner. A buggy or two dumped into that trench nightly is a common occurrence. ONE OF THE DUMPED.

MEN'S

All-wool Sack Suits, $5.

These Suits are medium gray, with a neat red plaid. The color and weight are right for Fall wear.

The large collection of 500 Suits from one manufacturer, referred to in yesterday's paper, and of which the above suits are a part, promises to create much interest among clothing buyers. The fact is that in most instances it will go to purchasers at less than regular wholesale prices. Thus it will pay those who are not in need of anything of the kind at present, to purchase with a view to future wants.

In order to give additional emphasis to the importance of this purchase, we have placed three lines of suits at $5, $7 50 and $10 on exhibition in our show windows--devoting an entire window to the display of each grade. The Suits are all-wool, and of patterns and qualities that speak for themselves.

The collection comprises Men's and Young Men's goods in Suits and Pants.

With this soil, climate and water the Colonist can support his family after the first 90 days. Four years' time will give an income of from $2,000 to $4,000 per annum.

Several 20-acre tracts have already been sold, and to insure a more complete development not more than 40 acres will be sold to one person.

HANDS OFF!

LEAVE THE SUPREME COURT ALONE.

Now Not the Time to Act—Protests of the Press—The New Assault—Etc.

COWARDLY.

The Red Bluff Sentinel pronounces the attack on Chief Justice Morrison cowardly.

WASTING TIME AND MONEY.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel avows that the Legislature is wasting time and money in entertaining charges against two Justices of the Supreme Court.

PUSHING A BAD PROPOSITION.

If the Justices named are to be removed on the ground of disability, at Judge Terry's motion, why not have the Legislature also consider the case of Governor Stoneman, whom the Attorney-General declares to be an imbecile?—Santa Rosa Republican.

THE PROBABLE OUTCOME.

That the present charge made by David S. Terry against the Judges of the Supreme Court is rather a novel mode of proceeding, none can gainsay; and that it will meet about the same fate as Governor Stoneman's attempt to reorganize the Supreme Court is very probable.—Oakland Times.

POSITION OF FAIR-MINDED PEOPLE.

The Los Angeles Herald observes that Chief Justice Morrison will receive a great deal of sympathy as a result of the very brusque assault made upon him by Judge Terry. "His ailment resulted from no irregular habits of life or vicious indulgences, and merits the forbearance of all fair-minded people."

DEMORALIZING THE WHOLE MACHINERY OF GOVERNMENT.

The Nevada City Herald says that the enemies of the Supreme Court "have sought to demoralize the whole machinery of Government, and they have almost succeeded. They have employed chicanery, corruption, intimidation and all the base means employed by base men to accomplish base purposes."

ANARCHY AND CONFUSION.

This whole Supreme Court business is very serious. It shows how near this State is approaching anarchy and confusion which will arise from the uncertainty of judicial proceedings. When a Court does not suit a prominent man in its rulings, the means of upsetting the Court are very easy. There seems to be no bed-rock foundation to our Courts.—Grass Valley Tidings.

A PERSONAL CONTEST.

The enemies of the Supreme Court, on personal grounds, are determined upon its destruction. As the plot develops itself it becomes more apparent that all the warnings uttered during the past few years by the honest press and the honest public men of the State, regarding the power of monopolies and their dangerous attitude toward the people and the people's liberties, have not been without cause.—Nevada City Herald.

A PROTEST.

The Santa Rosa Republican, referring to the assaults on the Supreme Court, says of Judge Terry: He will no longer dictate his arbitrary terms to parties and conventions; he cannot control Governors; he appears to be no longer able to control himself. The fall is great, but his party—whichever it is—profits thereby, and the State is so much relieved. He always fought the Republican party. The Democratic party will be wise to leave him entirely to himself.

"COWARDLY ATTACK."

David S. Terry, who married Sarah Althea Hill, has petitioned the Legislature to remove Chief Justice Robert F. Morrison from the Supreme Bench of California. The reasons for this high-handed outrage on the will of the people and the dignity of the State of California are set forth by Terry in charges of incompetency. We rise to ask, was this matter a part of the business of the extra session, as set forth in the Governor's proclamation? — Red Bluff Sentinel.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN BURNED ON SIGHT.

The idea of such a man as Dave Terry going before the Legislature and making such charges against Justices Morrison and Sharpstein is farcial in the extreme, and if the Legislature is so foolish as to retire those Judges on such grounds, the members thereof will richly earn the contempt of every honest man in the State. Instead of appointing a committee to investigate the nonsensical charges which have been made by Terry, costing thousands of dollars to do the same, they should have thrown them into the fire.—Nevada City Transcript.

GROSSLY DECEIVED.

The people of California were grossly deceived by the smart schemers at the bottom of this irrigation movement, and as the scales fall from their eyes and they begin to understand the hidden purposes of its leaders, they are justly indignant at the deception. While a large majority of them favor a just system of irrigation where necessary, they do not favor the reorganization of our Supreme Court or any amendment to our Constitution or laws placing the nonnavigable waters of the State in the power of an unconscionable monopoly. Petaluma Courier.

WASTING TIME AND MONEY.

The legislators at Sacramento are wasting their time and the people's money by seriously entertaining the charges of David Terry against two Justices of the Supreme Court. The evident animosity of the charge is not commendable, and it ought to be squelched for that, if for no other reason. Everybody who has kept posted on the Sharon case will believe that if the Court, instead of denying, had granted Terry's motion to dismiss the defendant's appeal from Judge Sullivan's order granting large counsel fees and alimony, the Legislature would never have heard of these charges. It is not the business of Legislatures to cater to personal spites and animosities, and we think the people of the State would have heartily approved their representatives in Sacramento if Judge Terry's charges had been kicked out of doors as speedily and unceremoniously as parliamentary procedure would permit. The Legislature has no authority to act upon the charges at this session. The Constitution declares that at a special session the Legislature "shall have no power to legislate on any subjects other than those specified in the proclamation" calling it together. The Governor's proclamation convening the special session does not contain anything that can be construed as applying to such action as Judge Terry's charges would make necessary.—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

MOST REMORSELESS.

They seem to forget that the parties who engage in the business of creating Courts to make law to order may at the next turn of the wheel be obliged to stand to their defenses. But the notion that "after us the deluge" is in some quarters more widely prevalent than is generally supposed. * * * * * But the Court must, in the nature of things, decide either against the one or the other powerful suitors who appear at its bar. If it is on every occasion to be reorganized out of existence by the defeated, there will be an end to law and justice on the Pacific coast. Of all the attacks on the Court the last was the most remorseless. There is something shockingly repulsive in the idea of calling up a Judge on the charge that his health is poor—thus placing a man in the attitude of a criminal, because of a visitation which may have been the result of a too earnest devotion to his public duties. Chief Justice Chase limped around on crutches for years in the Capitol at Washington, partially paralyzed, but no one thought of hauling him up for trial on the ground that he was incapacitated. Justice Hunt, of the Supreme Court of the United States, was for many years an invalid, but he was not even placed on the retired list and pensioned, as the law permits, till he had reached the full age of seventy. In a young State like California, which has so many questions pending, forbearance equally great cannot probably be exhibited. But if any of our Judges are not as competent for their work now as when they were elected, there is a decent, civilized and Christian method of dealing with a condition of that kind. There should certainly be kind treatment for the public servant who has worn himself out in the discharge of his duties, and not brutal outrage, as if he were a malefactor and a criminal. The Assembly has reflected no credit on itself in what it has already done in this matter. It certainly does not represent the benevolent feelings of the State at large. But when it is but too apparent that it instituted its harsh proceedings from purely sinister motives, the case against it becomes still worse. The wonder is that any body of men could be found in the State so lost to decency as to summon Judges before it to plead by reason of the illness and suffering which they may have had to endure. If there is any relief needed for the State in the premises, it will be found in a humane and civilized manner by the new Legislature, which will soon convene.—S. F. Bulletin.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3d.

FLOUR—We quote as follows: Best City Extra, $3 75@4 25; city superfine, $2 75@3 25; interior extra, $3 50@4 10; superfine, $2 85@3 ⅌ bbl.

WEAT—The Grand Army festivities are absorbing the attention of business men and citizens generally. The Produce Exchange is closed for the day, and no grain business is being transacted. The market closed yesterday in soft condition. Buyers are not inclined to purchase liberally at the low rate of $1 25 ⅌ ctl, even if they had the opportunity.

BARLEY—Trade for two or three days has been less lively than for a brief period preceding. At the moment the market is unsettled, owing to the changes in freights overland. Good feed qualities range from 82½c to 87½c ⅌ ctl, according to quality. The demand for Chevalier is shading off, and it is not quite so easy to place even a choice parcel with any promptness. This description changes hands at a rather wide range, say $1 30@1 42½ ⅌ ctl. Possibly a fancy lot would command a small advance. In the absence of heavy sales, $1 ⅌ ctl must be accepted as the current basis of trade for an article of good quality. Old brewing is strong at $1 50@1 60 ⅌ ctl.

OATS—The receipts and demand are pretty well balanced, so that the market is not crowded with offerings. Old crop is about used up, though now and then a small parcel of Oregon is to be had at a fancy price, say $1 60@$1 70 ⅌ ctl. Of the shipments of new now coming forward very little can be said favorably as to quality. An inferior article goes begging at $1 10 to $1 20 ⅌ ctl, as buyers are offered fair to good stock at $1 25@1 30 ⅌ ctl. A lot of real nice character would sell higher.

CORN—There is very little domestic product to be had, while Nebraska is nearly all out of first hands. Prices are, consequently, rather firm, and an advance in quotations may be expected unless it turn out that shipments are on the way. We quote: California, $1 15@1 25 for choice large Yellow, and $1 25 to $1 30 ⅌ ctl for small Yellow. Nebraska, $1 05@$1 10 ⅌ ctl for mixed No. 2 quality.

HOPS—Buyers show no anxiety to speculate, preferring to await orders from distant customers. We quote as followf: Crop of 1884, 8@9c; 1885, 15@17½c; new, 25@27½c ⅌ ℔.

POTATOES — Market fairly well supplied. Early Rose of choice quality are wanted at top prices, but there is not much stock that comes up to this standard. Most sales on wharf are effected at a range of 50@85c, and it must be something extra to bring as high as $1 ⅌ ctl from first hands. Sweet make pretty fair representation. Wharf rates are: Early Rose, 50c @$1 ⅌ ctl; Peerless, 60@80c; Mission Garnet Chile, 75@85c ⅌ ctl; Sweet, 2½@3c ⅌ ℔.

BEANS—There is a slight improvement in Bayos, but other kinds remain unchanged. Trade is not of large proportions. We quote as follows: Bayos, $1 25@1 50; Butter, $1 40@1 60; Pink, $1 15@1 20; Red, $1 15@1 25; Lima, $2@2 25 for good to choice; Pea, $1 80@2; Small White, $1 80@1 90 ⅌ ctl.

VEGETABLES—Trade was notably quiet this morning. Supplies were usually free, but the lack of custom compelled the carrying over of more or less stock. We quote: Green Okra, 75c@$1 ⅌ box; Green Peas, 2@2½c ⅌ ℔; String Beans, 1½@2c ⅌ ℔; Rhubarb, 40@60c ⅌ box; Cucumbers, 25@30c; Green Peppers, 20@25c ⅌ box; 35@40c for Chile and 40@50c ⅌ ℔ for Bell; Egg Plant, $1 50@2 ⅌ box; Green Corn, 35@50c for small and 60c@$1 ⅌ box for large boxes; Tomatoes, 25c to 35c ⅌ box; Artichokes, 10@15c ⅌ dozen; Carrots, 50@75c ⅌ ctl; Turnips, 75c@$1 ⅌ ctl; Beets, $1 ⅌ sack; Parsnips, $1 50 ⅌ ctl; Cauliflower, $1 ⅌ dozen; Cabbage, 60@75c ⅌ ctl; Garlic, 2½@3c ⅌ ℔; Celery, 50@60c ⅌ dozen; Dry Peppers, 10c; Dry Okra, 15@17½c ⅌ ℔; Summer Squash, 20@25c ⅌ box.

FRUIT—To-day was a good day for buyers. Unfortunately they did not appear in large numbers, while their wants did not near come up to ordinary requirements. We quote: Apples, 50@75c for common and $1@1 75 ⅌ box for good to choice, and 50@75c ⅌ bskt; Pears, 40@50c ⅌ bskt and 40@65c ⅌ box; Bartlett, 75c@1 25; Nectarines, 75c@$1 ⅌ box; Watermelons, $6@12 ⅌ 100; Cantaloupes, 50@75c ⅌ crate; Grapes, 35c@$1 ⅌ box; Peaches, 35@65c ⅌ box, according to size, and 35@60c ⅌ bskt; Crawford, 85c@$1 10 ⅌ box and 85c@$1 10 ⅌ baskt; Apricots, 4@4½c ⅌ ℔; Plums, 1@3c ⅌ ℔; Raspberries, $6@6 50 Strawberries, $2@4; Blackberries, $1 50@2 ⅌ chest; Huckleberries, 6@8c ⅌ ℔; Mexican Limes, $9@10; Lemons, Sicily, $8 50@9; do, California, $1 50 @2 50 ⅌ box, according to quality; Bananas, $1 50@3 ⅌ bunch; Pineapples, $4 50@5 50 ⅌ dozen.

BUTTER—There was a marked decrease in the quantity of stock coming forward that can be classed as either choice or fancy. Poor Butter drags at low figures, there being considerable of this kind still offering. Fancy, 22½@25c; choice, 20@22c; fair to good, 14@18c; mixed lots, 10@12c; pickled roll, 17@21c; firkin, 17@18c for choice, 14@16c for fair to good, and 10@12½c for poor; Eastern, 8@11c ⅌ ℔.

CHEESE — No positive advance is quotations has occurred this week, but the market shows a strong upward tendency, and many dealers believe that higher prices are not far distant. Fair to good qualities are quotable at 5@6c, while choice range from 7c to 8c ⅌ ℔; New York Creamery, 12@13c ⅌ ℔.

EGGS—All through the week the market has been dull and easy, especially for product not extra fine. Stocks of Eastern have been increased during the week, and sales are said to have been made at less than cost. We quote as follows: California, 23@24c for choice and 18@22c ⅌ dozen for good product; Eastern, 14@16c ⅌ dozen.

POULTRY—Turkeys are not in very large supply, while the demand has been rather active than otherwise, giving steadiness to values. All other descriptions are well represented, and prices shape favorably for buyers. We quote prices as follows: Live Turkeys—Gobblers, 18@20; Hens, 15@17c ⅌ ℔; Roosters, $6@6 50 for old and $5@7 for young; Hens, $5@7; Broilers, $3@4; Ducks, $3@4 ⅌ dozen; Geese, $1 25@1 75 ⅌ pair.

GAME—There is not much Venison being sent to market, though custom is quick for anything in good condition. Venison, 12@14c ⅌ ℔; Rabbits, $1@1 25 ⅌ dozen.

WOOL—There is no great stock from which buyers can make selection. Hence trade is somewhat slow. We quote spring clip:

Humboldt and Mendocino, ⅌ ℔	23@25
San Joaquin, 6 mos	15@18
Southern Coast	13@16
Nevada	16@20
Eastern Oregon	16@22

ONE HUNDRED DOSES one dollar is inseparably connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is true of no other medicine. A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses, and will last a month, while others will average to last not over a week. Use only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE most deadly foe to all malarial diseases is Ayer's Ague Cure, a combination of vegetable ingredients, of which the more valuable is used in no other preparation. This remedy is an absolute specific, and succeeds when other remedies fail. Warranted.

DYSPEPSIA comes from Torpid Liver and Costiveness. You cannot digest your food well unless your liver and bowels act properly. Brandreth's Pills, taken one or two at night for a week or so, will regulate the bowels, stimulate the liver and insure a quick and healthful digestion. These Pills are purely vegetable, contain no mineral and are absolutely harmless for old and young.

ECZEMA

And Every Species of Itching and Burning Diseases Cured by Cuticura.

ECZEMA, or Salt Rheum, with its agonizing itching and burning, instantly relieved by a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure. This repeated daily, with two or three doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, to keep the blood cool, the perspiration pure and unirritating, the bowels open, the liver and kidneys active, will speedily cure Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Lichen, Pruritus, Scald Head, Dandruff and every species of Itching, Scaly and Pimply Humors of the Scalp and Skin, when the best physicians and all known remedies fail.

Will McDonald, 2542 Dearborn St., Chicago, gratefully acknowledges a cure of Eczema, or Salt Rheum, on head, neck, face, arms and legs for seventeen years; not able to walk except on hands and knees for one year; not able to help himself for eight years; tried hundreds of remedies; doctors pronounced his case hopeless; permanently cured by CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier) internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP (the great skin cures) externally.

Chas. Houghton, Esq., lawyer, 28 State St., Boston, reports a case of Eczema under his observation for ten years, which covered the patient's body and limbs, and to which all known methods of treatment had been applied without benefit, which was completely cured solely by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, leaving a clean and healthy skin.

Mr. John Thiel, Wilkesbarre, Pa., writes: "I have suffered from Salt Rheum for over eight years, at times so bad that I could not attend to my business for weeks at a time. Three boxes of CUTICURA and four bottles RESOLVENT have entirely cured me of this dreadful disease."

ONLY 350 ACRES

Remaining Unsold of the Hickey Tract, Two Miles East of Loomis, Surveyed and Subdivided into 20-acre Tracts.

THE SOIL IS DEEP AND RICH, IS MOSTLY cleared, which alone costs from $15 to $30 per acre, consequently adding that amount to these lands, aside from time required in clearing, the land being ready to cultivate. That portion uncleared has but little underbrush. The wood will pay expense of clearing. Mostly level; no waste land; every acre can be utilized; several springs in various parts of the tract; all can be brought under irrigation, the ditch adjoining the land, although the trees in this vicinity do better without it, owing to the richness of the soil. Price, $30 to $50 per acre, according to choice. Terms, one third cash; deferred payments, 6½ per cent. per annum. Mr. Thomas Chatfield, the owner, is always upon the land, and will take pleasure in taking the intending purchaser to and from the depot at Loomis. The earliest fruits this year were produced in this vicinity.

Lands in all parts of Central and Northern California for sale. Send for Catalogue.
